DUDLEY GOODLETTE BIO

Dudley Goodlette served in the Florida House of Representatives from 1998 until 2006 representing Naples, Marco Island and Everglades City in Southwest Florida.

During eight years as a member of the Florida House of Representatives, Dudley served in many key leadership positions including four years as Chairman of the influential Rules Committee and Rules and Calendar Council. Dudley was instrumental in leading election reform initiatives following the 2000 Presidential election, statewide domestic security initiatives following the 9/11 attack on America in 2001, medical malpractice reform in 2003, and important legislative measures relating to education reform in the state university system and the implementation of the constitutionally mandated statewide universal pre-kindergarten program in 2005.

In addition to his public service Dudley has maintained extensive community involvement in Southwest Florida. Dudley has served as President of the Naples Area Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the Collier County Economic Development Council, Chairman of the City of Naples Community Redevelopment Advisory Board, President of the Collier County Bar Association and on many other civic and community organizations. Dudley has received numerous awards for his community service, including Naples Daily News Citizen of the Year, Economic Development Council Volunteer of the Year and Junior Achievement of Southwest Florida Business Leadership Hall of Fame Laureate.

Dudley earned his undergraduate degree from Eastern Kentucky University and his law degree from the University of Florida College of Law. He is a founding shareholder in the law firm of Goodlette, Coleman and Johnson, P. A. in Naples and is a Florida Bar board certified real estate attorney.

Dudley joined The Moorings Park Institute, Incorporated Board of Directors in April 2007.

In March of 2009, Speaker Larry Cretul named Dudley as his Chief of Staff, a role he served in during Speaker Cretul's tenure.

Dr. Kathie S. Sigler holds an Ed.D. in Community College Administration and Curriculum Development from Nova University and retired in April 2006 from Miami Dade College (MDC) after 36 years. In her final position as Provost, Dr. Sigler served as the chief operating officer (COO) of the College. Prior to serving as Provost, Dr. Sigler was President of the Medical Center Campus of Miami-Dade College; she also previously served as the College's first Chief Information Officer (CIO).

In 2007, Dr. Sigler returned to Miami Dade College to assist with a vacancy in the Presidency of the Medical Center Campus. She remained as President of the Campus until April, 2008, retiring from MDC for the second time when a new President was selected. In 2011, Dr. Sigler was asked to serve the College again as a consultant to the new Miami Culinary Institute's academic program.

A native of Detroit, MI and alumnus of Wayne State University for her bachelors and masters degrees, Dr. Sigler came to Miami Dade College in 1969 as a member of the business education faculty. Her post doctoral work includes Harvard University's prestigious Harvard Seminar for New Presidents and Harvard's Institute of Educational Management, as well as the Executive Leadership Seminar for Future Community College Presidents sponsored by the University of Texas at Austin, the University of California at Berkeley, and the League for Innovation in the Community College. Dr. Sigler holds the academic rank of Full Professor at Miami Dade College.

Dr. Sigler has played key leadership roles both nationally and in the Miami community in the area of educational technology. She is best recognized for her efforts to advance educational opportunity and her innovative approaches to teaching and learning using technology. Dr. Sigler was invited to serve as a member of the faculty at Harvard University for the Seminar for New Presidents to discuss "What Every President Needs to Know about Technology." The University of Texas at Austin also invited her to serve as faculty for their doctoral training program for future presidents. She keynoted the American Association of Community College's national seminar on Taming Technology and was featured on the "Faces of COMDEX!" website.

A prolific writer, Dr. Sigler has authored of over sixteen college and high school texts including Reference Manual for the Office now in its 8th edition, Medical Office Reference Manual in its 3rd edition, and her first CD Rom, Multimedia Reference for Writers. She has also written numerous journal and magazine articles, and has served on the boards of several professional publications.

Having a strong belief in community service, she has served on many community boards including The Public Health Trust, CaResource, Florida Immigrant Advocacy Center, Health Initiatives Committee for the Chamber of Commerce, the South Florida Hospital and Healthcare Association, and West Dade Homeowners Association.

Dr. Sigler has been recognized by numerous distinguished organizations as evidenced by her selection for the AXA Lifetime Achievement Award by Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce as their "Health Care Hero," by the City of Miami Commission on the Status of Women for their Unsung Heroines Award, by the Governor of Valencia, Spain as an honorary Fallera, "Dr. Kathie Sigler Day" by Mayor Stephen Clark of Metropolitan Dade County, by Mayor Maurice Ferre for a Commendation by the City of Miami, and many others.

In her "retirement" Dr. Sigler serves as President of Higher Education and Technology Consultants, Inc. Her clients include Florida Power & Light Company, the Wisconsin Technical Colleges, Central Florida Health Alliance, American Association of Community Colleges, SunGard Higher Education, Miami Dade College, Indian River College, Palm Beach College, Lesley University, Campus Management, and Trane Commercial Systems/Ingersoll Rand.
