

First Year Experience Programming Report – Fall 2012 – Lee Campus

FYE programming is designed to supplement the assignments, materials, and goals of the Cornerstone Experience class. FYE programming is set up in a specially designed series; a different topic is covered each week in the series. The workshop series includes: Mash Up Monday, Technology Tuesday, Evening Programming, Yoga, and Service Saturday. Programming made up less than 31% of the First Year Experience office's total sign in traffic. The chart below shows the % breakdown of attendance for various programming categories.

Mash Up Monday

Technology Tuesday

Service Saturday

The purpose of the Service Saturday series is to connect students to their surroundings so that together with participating community service agencies students will be an agent for positive change. One Saturday each month, the FYE office provides an opportunity for students to volunteer as a group with different community organizations. First-year students have volunteered 549 hours with FYE this fall semester. The chart below shows the different organizations in which FYE volunteered as well as the percentage of students who volunteered at each Service Saturday.

Student Feedback

The FYE office regularly surveys students to gain a better understanding of what students need, like, and want to see from our office moving forward. We ask multiple choice and open ended questions. The student responses have been overwhelmingly positive. Below you will find feedback from 2 different event/activity surveys (workshops and Service Saturday events).
