No. This change has no impact on programs of other departments: these are general education core science course.

Section III, Justification for proposal

Provide justification (below) for each change on this proposed curriculum action. According to Carnegie definition, a C course has a minimum of 2 contact hours of in-class lab work for 1 each credit of lab. This is a C course and contains enough standard labs to justify 2 hours of lab work per week to supplement two hours of lecture. Therefore, a minimum of 2 lecture hours and 2 lab hours are required to cover the course content satisfactorily and to justify the C designation. Maintaining the C designation will allow this course to be used to meet both the Science Gen Ed core requirement and the College's lab science requirement.
