- The department decided to wait for info on the Follett Access program from the bookstore or member of the Textbook Committee (will likely invite someone to a future department meeting). Follett Access, which is a new program (piloted in FA20 with the accounting dept), covers textbook cost in course fees, and as a result, students receive a notable discount on textbooks and receive access to books on the first day of class.
- Dawn Kulpanowski, psychology, has given her resignation. She will not return as a full-time faculty member starting Fall 2021.
