Hi Sheila,

Here's a brief summary of the comments from GEAC on Bruno's course proposal.

The committee felt that while the course may not be described as having "breadth," it would cover the core skills in political science at sufficient depth to meet both FSW and SACS vision of general education. Furthermore, the course proposal effectively demonstrates that it will meet the general education competencies selected. Finally, the course fills gaps in the curriculum that will be beneficial to students in the social sciences.

Best,
Rebecca
