

AS Nursing Program suggested changes in paragraph 2 to read:

You will begin your training on state-of-the-art patient simulators and equipment ~~used in local health systems*~~, which will prepare you for clinical practice at local healthcare facilities including community agencies, acute care institutions, long-term and ambulatory care facilities with real patients. *(The strike through information makes it sound like students are trained on patient simulators that are used in local health systems).

ASN Paragraph 4 to read:

RN-to-BSN Program

FSW's Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing (BSN), a degree completion program is a rigorous online RN-to-BSN program for Registered Nurses that will prepare nurses for career promotions and advancement. FSW's RN-to-BSN program will prepare you to take on new nursing roles including:

- Leadership in a variety of settings
- Serving the nation as a military nurse - Army, Navy, Air Force, National Guard (minimum BSN required)
- Qualifying for many other positions that holding a BSN degree is preferred
- Qualifying for nursing graduate program at colleges and universities

Our online courses are focused on elevating your professional nursing practice and are based in research, community health, multicultural nursing, informatics and leadership knowledge and skills.

You will learn from faculty with extensive experience in education and nursing service. Many of our faculty members have held leadership roles or are currently practicing in the community, which enhances your learning opportunities. FSW's RN-to-BSN program provides flexible class hours to fit your work-life balance. Full-time and part-time schedules are available. Additionally, the cost of our quality program tuition and books is low considering the total cost of in-state tuition and textbooks is estimated to be $6015.

The RN-to-BSN program is proud to have the Alpha Alpha Rho Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing. You may receive an invitation to join the chapter based on SIGMA criteria for undergraduate nursing or meeting the Nurse Leader criteria. SIGMA membership is an honor and signifies academic excellence and integrity. As a member of the SIGMA chapter, you will be able to be part of the nursing community in Southwest Florida and volunteer in the chapter and the community of nurses
