Re: Course Equivalency for ENT 1000 and ENT 2000

Upon review of the department's offering, the faculty of the School of Business and Technology determined that ENT 1000 Introduction to Entrepreneurship and ENT 2000 Introduction to Entrepreneurship are more than 70% equivalent in their learning outcomes. Students who have credit for either class have to repeat work if their program requires the one that they have not taken. The Faculty are putting forward Curriculum actions to rectify this issue.

The faculty recommend that this memo serves as approval to allow the Registrar's office to make ENT 1000 and ENT 2000 equivalent without having to forward such request to the Credit Review Committee effective for the Fall 2020 academic year. The syllabi are attached for review.
